

Disappearance of Royal Marine Alan Addis on 8th August 1980 aged 19

It was initially suggested that Addis had drowned in an accident, but it is now widely believed that he was murdered. Previous police investigations have resulted in arrests, but no one has ever been charged in connection with his disappearance and his body has never been found. Due diligence has not been done. Almost a conspiracy that nothing of consequence has been done, then and since (45 years later), for what reason ? Why ?. So much time has gone by that any perpetrators or person(s) with any knowledge may have since passed on, or not. Whispers must be listened to and investigated Alan is laying out there somewhere cold, alone and forgotten. He must be brought back home to the UK and laid to rest with full military honours no matter how long it takes...
